

Young Professionals (AYP)

Establish Your Roots in Facilities Management

APPA Young Professionals (AYP) are defined as someone who has recently begun a career in the field of Facilities Management and is approximately 35 years of age or younger.

Are you an AYP?

AYPs have

- Fresh new ideas to share
- The desire to be engaged and be active at the chapter, regional and international levels
- Different perspectives
- Motivation to be engaged with the broader membership
- Significant contributions and seeking mentoring opportunities
- An openness to different modes of information technology
- Ambition for growth in leadership and a career in Facilities Management

How do I become an AYP?

Join the conversation by joining the Young Professionals! Email the APPA membership team at membership@appa.org. Consider attending a professional development program within your region and through APPA.

- Drive-In Workshops
- Supervisor's Toolkit
- APPAU – Institute for Facilities Management & Leadership Academy
- APPA Annual conferences at the chapter, regional, and international levels
- Scholarships available to you from your region

Starting at the root. Utilize your chapter and regional network connections to expand your professional network. Grow your roots to become a stronger and better leader as you advance professionally and personally in the educational facilities profession.

Become a mentee! APPA and your regional network can help connect you with a mentor to help you learn, grow, move forward in your career and develop leadership skills.

Grow your roots and your career.

YOU are the future of educational facilities management!

Leverage APPA social media to engage with other young professionals across the country and internationally.

@APPA_facilities

APPA – Leadership in Educational Facilities

APPA – Leadership in Educational Facilities and APPA Young Professionals

APPALeadership

